I had no part of this study beyond the identification of the voucher specimens. Hence, I do not know whether the results reported are based on a mixture of the two species (most likely) or not.
